

MSU summer courses for teachers

Project Archaeology

Learn how the exciting field of archaeology can bring history, art, language, mathematics, social studies, and scientific inquiry to your classroom. A full copy of the Project Archaeology curriculum materials is yours to take home.

Project Archaeology: Investigating a Plains Tipi (EDCI 580) 2 graduate credits. Use artifacts, maps, photos and more to explore the concept of shelter.

- June 13-16, 2011: Bozeman, Montana*
- July 18-21, 2011: Helena, Montana NEW LOCATION

Project Archaeology Educator Field School (EDCI 588) 2 graduate credits, Includes two days of archaeology fieldwork in Nevada City, Montana.

- Aug 8-11, 2011 • Virginia City, Montana*

On-site housing available*

Each course is 2 Graduate Credits

Instructor: Crystal Alegria, MA. Ms. Alegria is coordinator for Project Archaeology, a national archaeology and heritage education program. She has worked in heritage and archaeological education for the last ten years with an emphasis on curriculum development for upper elementary students. Ms. Alegria has a B.S. in Anthropology and an M.A. in History from Montana State University.

How to Register: See full course descriptions and registration information after Nov. 1 at <http://eu.montana.edu/credit/>. There is a minimum enrollment for each course and if not met, the course may be cancelled and fees fully refunded. For complete information on administrative policies <http://eu.montana.edu/credit/policy.htm>.

Registration Questions: Extended University, Office of Continuing Education, (406) 994-6683, toll free (866) 540-5660, ContinuingEd@montana.edu

Scholarships available!